Ensuring Successful Student Transitions

One of the most significant steps a child in care takes is transitioning to a new school from another school, or even transitioning to a new building within the same school district. This is a momentous step for your student. You are concerned for your student and chances are your child is pretty stressed about it too – new teachers, a new building, let alone a whole bunch of new students to get acquainted with!

This is an important transition in your child's life. It is critical and it can be fun. Check out some of the suggestions below, it is possible for you to ease the transition so that BOTH you and your student emerge safe and sound!

1. Familiarize Your Student With Their Surroundings. If you think back to your first days in college or even in a new job, you'll remember that a lot of your anxiety stemmed from being unfamiliar with your surroundings. Simple things like knowing where the restroom is can feel like major obstacles. To help your student, take a tour of the school together before school begins.
2. Get Organized. To help your child adapt to his new school schedule, look at ways you can jointly become organized. This may include an individual planner for them, and also a bulletin board for a family calendar, reminders and notes. Experiment with ways that work for you and your family to make sure that nothing (including homework) is forgotten.
3. Enable Positive Peer Networking Opportunities. When a kid is new, it is a lot like being a small fish in a big pond. Your student may be thrown into an environment where they know no one and end up feeling lost. Try to help your child develop some positive personal relationships before school starts.
4. Encourage Independent Problem Solving. It can be difficult to see your student struggling, but try to do your best to simply lead them in the right direction. Focus less on solving problems for your student and more on enabling them to solve their own problems.
5. Keep Track of What Your Student is Doing. You don't need to micromanage your student, but it is important that you're aware of what's happening in their life. If you notice their grades are slipping or they are reluctant to go to school, some part of the transition has failed and you need to work together with your student to address it.

Remember, a transition to a new school need only be as difficult as YOU make it. By maintaining a positive attitude (and encouraging your student to do the same), you are helping them ensure that this next phase of their life is Successful and FUN!

RPPS – What is it???

In September 2014, Congress passed the “Prevent Sex Trafficking and Strengthening Families” Act, H.R. 4980. This law establishes prudent parent standards throughout the United States. As part of this federal law, foster parents are now required to complete the Reasonable and Prudent Parent Standard Training by September 30, 2016.

The Reasonable and Prudent Parent Standard allows foster parents to give their foster children permission to do age-appropriate activities that promote cognitive, emotional, physical and behavioral growth. All states are now required to promote normalcy for children in foster care. Please click on the link below to complete this training.
